PROFESSIONAL PROFILE

Nancy Marano

Registered Psychologist – Child and Adolescent

Nancy is a warm, compassionate psychologist who works with children, adolescents and adults, providing both comprehensive psychological assessments and evidence-based therapy. She is committed to helping individuals and families better understand their strengths, navigate life's challenges and achieve meaningful, lasting change.

Nancy has extensive experience conducting psychological assessments, including:

- Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD)
- Attention-Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD)
- Cognitive (IQ) assessments
- Specific Learning Disorder (SLD) assessments
- Giftedness assessments

She works closely with children, adolescents and their families to identify each individual's strengths and areas of need, providing practical recommendations that support learning, emotional wellbeing and development. Nancy regularly collaborates with parents, teachers and schools to help children achieve positive outcomes across both home and educational settings.

In addition to her assessment work, Nancy provides psychological therapy for children, adolescents and adults experiencing a broad range of mental health concerns.

She supports clients with anxiety, depression, stress, emotional regulation difficulties, low self-esteem, adjustment challenges, relationship difficulties and other life transitions. Her therapeutic approach is collaborative, evidence-based and tailored to each person's unique circumstances and goals.

Nancy also has extensive experience supporting parents through the challenges of raising children at different developmental stages. She provides practical parenting strategies, psychoeducation and guidance to strengthen family relationships, improve communication and build confidence in managing behavioural and emotional concerns.

Known for her approachable, engaging and collaborative style, Nancy creates a safe, supportive environment where clients feel heard, respected and empowered. Her goal is to help individuals and families gain greater insight, build confidence and develop practical skills that promote long-term mental health and wellbeing.
